LETTER FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

On February 7th, 2019, South Bronx United celebrated its 10th Anniversary. It has been quite a journey, one that we could not have predicted given the bumpy start.

With a vision to bring a youth soccer and mentoring program to the South Bronx, I set the date for our first soccer session, an outdoor tryout, for February 7th, 2009. The goal was to recruit middle school students to fill a travel soccer team. After spending my days teaching at New Day Academy, a public school in Morrisania, I would deliver flyers and send emails to as many addresses as I could find. A school contact directed me to South Bronx High School, which boasted one of the few artificial turf fields in the district—"The Field of Dreams" was plastered on the scoreboard—as our tryout venue. As the date neared, I began to realize the biggest problem with the launch plan. Despite a good forecast for the opening day, a week of freezing temperatures and a half foot of snow in the week prior threw our plans into doubt. Warming temperatures brought some initial hope until the school's Athletic Director made the call to close the field for the weekend; there was no guarantee that the snow would melt.

Without an indoor option, we scrambled to move the tryout to a grass and dirt baseball field at St. Mary's Park in the heart of Mott Haven. The day brought beautiful weather, 50 degrees and a blue sky. I arrived early with several volunteer coaches and a couple of snow shovels purchased that morning. We cleared the snow off a patch of field large enough to fit a small-sided game. As youth arrived and began kicking the ball around, we realized our fatal flaw; when snow melts into grass and dirt, it creates mud. That morning's soccer games quickly devolved into mud ball. With several unhappy parents grumbling about the laundry that awaited them, South Bronx United was born.

Ten years and several thousand participants later, there have been many more learning experiences. It took another year to start our Recreational Soccer Program and to begin offering academic programming. It took two more years to pay our first employee, three years to begin providing immigration legal supports, and eight years to surpass 1,000 youth served in a year.

In 2019, we will serve more youth than ever before. Our programs will reach children as young as four years old and provide support services that continue for our alumni into their early twenties. SBU will have managed more than 180 immigration legal services cases. In the past six years, 100% of SBU Academy seniors have gone on to graduate high school and 94% have enrolled in college. The college readiness rate of SBU Academy graduates is nearly three-times higher than the district average. 167 young adults call themselves SBU Academy alumni. More than 300 volunteers, coaches, staff, and board members make this work possible through their service.

Still, we face new challenges. Although SBU launched at the height of the Great Recession—not a great time for an organization that fundraised every dollar of its budget—the political landscape of 2019 presents another set of obstacles. It has been a particularly difficult two years for our immigrant communities. Within the same month, two South Bronx United fathers were detained by Immigrations and Customs Enforcement. Before appeals could even be heard, one parent was deported to North Africa. The other still sits in detention, awaiting a decision. Three South Bronx United children, participants in the SBU Academy and each an American citizen, have been left with broken homes. Immigration application denials are also pouring in at an unprecedented rate for undocumented young people who are applying for work authorization through pathways that would have previously given them protection. SBU created a family in 2009. In the face of these challenges in 2019, it is imperative that we continue providing these supports.

What will the next ten years bring? We are bringing our mission international. This year, staff members represented SBU at summits in Washington, D.C., Los Angeles, Paris, and Berlin, and in 2019 we will be in St. Lucia and Lyon, France. Through these opportunities, SBU will continue picking up best practices from around the globe while establishing itself as a model for how to use sports in a place-based approach to engage underrepresented youth.

SBU will strengthen its services and expand its reach in the community, through a new social worker, an alumni coordinator, a new program site, and a new facility. The South Bronx is home to more than 660,000 residents and one of the fastest growing immigrant populations in the city. SBU is reaching just a sliver of the district's families, just a fraction of those who might take to soccer programs, and just a tiny percentage of those who could benefit from academic and college access support, mentoring, leadership development, immigration legal services, and other supports.

Please take the time to read through the following pages to learn more about what we have accomplished. We are always looking for another champion to spread the word, invest in our mission, and join the South Bronx United team. That could be you.

Sincerely,

Andrew So, Executive Director

MISSION AND VISION

South Bronx United's mission is to use soccer as a tool for social change. We aim to help youth build character, teamwork, and leadership so that they can succeed in high school, college, careers, the greater community, and beyond. We strive to promote educational achievement, health and wellness, and character development through activities on and off the soccer field and to unite a diverse group of individuals and an incredibly diverse community toward common positive goals.

SBU envisions a South Bronx community where:

- All youth have a support network to help them succeed in school, college, careers, and in their communities.
- All youth have access to educational, athletic, and college and career readiness resources.
- All immigrant families receive dignity, support, and opportunity.

SBU's vision is to become:

- An international leader in a place-based approach to using sports for youth development.
- A citywide leader in expanding academic, college, and career opportunities for immigrant youth and their families.
- A community leader in delivering impactful youth programming and services.

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

PROGRAMS

The RECREATIONAL SOCCER PROGRAM provides opportunities for children to learn and play soccer in a fun, developmental environment over 33 weeks of the year. The Saturday program is held at three sites in the South Bronx: Macombs Dam Park, Mullaly Park, and Patterson Playground. Open after-school sessions give children additional chances to play and train.

700 Youth Served, Ages 4-16

SBU COMMUNITY SCHOOLS PROGRAM provides after-school programming at two elementary schools and one middle school in the Bronx. The program started at one new site, Girls Prep Bronx Elementary School, with support from the Women's Sports Foundation. It continues to operate at PS/IS 218 WHEDco after school and PS 49 Willis Avenue. In addition to soccer activities, students work through a health and nutrition curriculum developed by New York City FC's City in the Community Foundation. Through the SBU Coaching Corps Fellowship, select SBU Academy high school students and alumni are trained as assistant coaches and mentors, enabling them to build leadership skills and gain work experience.

60 Youth Served, Ages 7-12

PROGRAMS

The SELECT SOCCER PROGRAM provides additional opportunities for boys and girls to train on the soccer field and develop as athletes and individuals. Teams compete within the greater New York City metropolitan area. The program offers a pathway for youth to join the SBU Academy program beginning in middle school.

50 Youth Served, Ages 9-12

PROGRAMS

GLOBAL YOUTH LEAGUE offers high school aged youth living in the Bronx a recreational outlet on the soccer field and screenings for support services and immigration relief with connections to direct legal representation. A majority of participants are immigrant youth, including unaccompanied minors who recently immigrated to the United States. Partnering programs include City in the Community and English Language Learners & International Support Preparatory Academy (ELLIS)

100 Youth Served, Ages 15-20

IMMIGRATION LEGAL SERVICES

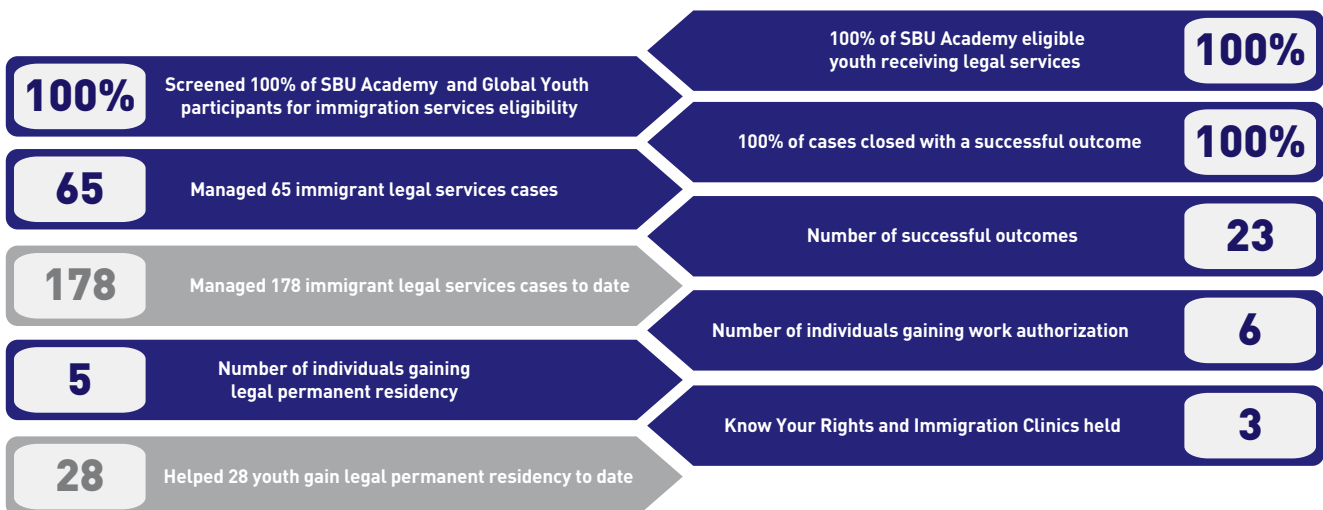

South Bronx United has renewed recognition from the United States Department of Justice, formerly the Board of Immigration Appeals. This allows designated staff to practice immigration law and represent youth, families, and the community in proceedings before Immigration Court and the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). SBU's Legal Services Coordinator assesses the needs and eligibility of youth and their family members, manages immigration relief cases, provides legal services and direct legal representation, and offers information to community members on relevant immigration issues. These steps are crucial to improving the lives of many youth and families and to helping youth on the path towards college and careers.

South Bronx United has supported youth and families in gaining work authorization, legal permanent residency, asylum, and citizenship, with a particular focus on cases for undocumented youth who are eligible for Special Immigrant Juvenile Status (SIJS) and Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA). SBU staff also organizes Know Your Rights sessions and immigration clinics for youth and parents. SBU is a member of the Bronx Immigration Partnership and the New York Immigration Coalition.

THE SBU ACADEMY

The SBU ACADEMY provides a pathway from middle school to high school to college to careers for South Bronx and immigrant boys and girls. The program keeps youth on track academically, athletically, socially, and emotionally, by combining academic enrichment, college prep, mentoring, leadership development, and youth and family support services, with competitive travel soccer. Academic components include After-School Tutoring, Sophomore Skills (Math and English), SAT Preparation, College Prep Mentoring for High School Seniors, English as a Second Language classes, and the Summer Soccer Scholars program. Every student athlete competes on one of the eight travel soccer teams, each led by a Coach-Mentor

YOUTH COUNCIL

Leadership development is a core goal of the SBU Academy program. The SBU Youth Council offers opportunities to youth who have demonstrated leadership potential and is comprised of captains and representatives from each soccer team. They discuss initiatives to improve participants' experience in the program, engage in community service activities (delivering food to a soup kitchen, organizing a computer giveaway), plan youth events, address social justice issues, attend community meetings, and serve as youth ambassadors for the organization.

SBU COACHING CORPS

SBU Academy high school students and alumni are eligible for paid and volunteer opportunities to work as coaches and referees in the Recreational Soccer Program or Community Schools Program. In 2017, SBU created the Coaching Corps as a year-long fellowship to provide more in-depth training and experience for a select cohort of SBU Academy alumni or current high school juniors or seniors. Corps Fellows serve as assistant coaches in an SBU program, receive individualized coaching support, earn coach and referee licenses, and attend monthly training sessions to prepare them to work as youth coaches and mentors.

“Since I working with my U10s and U13s, I’ve been able to be a role model for them. This has really had an impact on me.”

- Freddy Flores, 19, SBU Academy Class of 2019

THE SBU ACADEMY

SUMMER SOCCER SCHOLARS

Summer Soccer Scholars is a five-week, full day program in July and August for rising 6th through 11th graders in the SBU Academy. In 2018, 70 SBU Academy participants attended the summer program. All students took Mathematics and Humanities. Younger students also took Art class, supported by the SBU Karen Barth Arts Program, and older students attended a Health and Life Skills class offered by the Inwood House and Day One. Classes integrated the theme of Community into their daily lessons and final projects. SBU brought in experienced teachers from New York City and beyond to teach classes. Undergraduate students intern as assistant teachers, coaches, and mentors.

Students completed final projects that included community maps, an art gallery, a study of the Bronx, and a debate about compensating college athletes. Every Friday, students embarked on weekly field trips: ziplining over the Bronx River, hiking and swimming at Bear Mountain State Park, Bicycling at Governor's Island, and more.

BLACKROCK®

Summer Soccer Scholars is funded in part by BlackRock.

THE SBU ACADEMY

KAREN BARTH ARTS PROGRAM

The SBU Karen Barth Arts Program provides arts workshops during the SBU Academy's After School Tutoring Program and a daily class during the Summer Soccer Scholars program. The initiative was founded in 2016 through the support of the Chloe and Keela Foundation in honor of the late artist Karen Barth.

HIGH SCHOOL PLACEMENT

SBU Academy youth receive support in making sound high school choices. In order to give youth strong academic foundations, open new doors for college, and diversify their life experiences, staff also supports students in applying to boarding schools and preparatory schools in the Northeast.

In 2018, five Academy students attended boarding schools on full scholarships. Students have attended Choate Rosemary Hall (MA), Indian Mountain School (CT), Lawrence Academy (MA), Loomis Chaffee School (CT), Mercersburg Academy (PA), Northfield Mount Herman (MA), and Suffield Academy (CT).

Rockshell Antwi | Northfield Mount Hermon Academy, Class of 2018 | Freshman, Wofford College

"I came to the United States five and a half years ago. My second year here, I tried out for South Bronx United. The program benefitted me and other student-athletes most by helping me get out of trouble and focus on the goal of college. SBU's college counselor at the time, Tom DeMaio, introduced me to boarding schools, something I didn't even know was an option. By the next fall, I had joined another SBU student-athlete in Massachusetts, enrolled at Northfield Mount Hermon on a full scholarship.

It was not easy transitioning from Ghana into a public school in the Bronx, and it was even harder moving to a private boarding school. I had to work hard and seek help from my advisors, teachers, and coaches in and out of the class. I had to balance soccer with school with living on my own.

I am now going through another change as a freshman at Wofford

College in South Carolina, where I received an athletic scholarship to play on the soccer team. Sometimes I get tired of school, but it would be impossible to go back to the difficult situation my family and I were in. So, I continue to fight. I would like to thank everyone, especially SBU and my mother, who has played and continues to play a role in my journey."

THE SBU ACADEMY

2018 SBU COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS

PARVENU KIMPOLO-PATOU joined South Bronx United in 2013, two years after he moved to the Bronx with his family from the Republic of Congo. He graduated from Bronx International High School and started at Saint Peter's University this fall where he plans to major in Computer Science

"I grew up speaking French. I lived in the city of Brazzaville. My mom worked as a teacher most of her life. She always advised me to be true to myself and follow my passion, even in a country like the Republic of Congo. Congo is full of talent that is not exploited because of the lack of economic support. I will always miss the noisy streets of Brazzaville that give off so much positive energy. Congo birthed me, New York raised me, but my family taught me. Both of my older brothers are now in college. They have motivated me to become a better version of myself academically and personally."

NANCY ORDAZ was born in the South Bronx to parents who had immigrated from Puebla, Mexico. She joined the SBU Academy as a high school junior. She graduated from the Laboratory School of Finance and Technology. At the College of Staten Island, she intends to study Engineering.

"Even though life in the Bronx has had its challenges, it has also given me many opportunities. I have learned that to achieve something meaningful, I have to focus on school and work hard. Most importantly, I want to give back to my mother for everything she has done for my brother and me. College will open the door to a meaningful career, and this will make my mother proud. I will show her that her hard work was worth it and together we will make it."

MIRIAM TEPALE is the first in her family to attend college. She joined the SBU Academy for her senior year of high school and graduated from the High School of Arts and Technology. She intends on majoring in Business Management. Miriam is also a fellow in the SBU Coaching Corps and coaches at the SBU's afterschool program at Girls Prep Elementary School.

"The purpose for my parents coming to New York was to live the American dream and to share that dream with their family. However, things didn't work out the way my parents intended. My sister blessed me with an adorable nephew at a young age, and my brother dropped out of high school. I feel pressure to succeed. I recognize that the effort my parents made will lead us to a better life than what we have now, and I have to take advantage of it."

PLAYSOCCER2GIVE SBU COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP

David Balderas competes on the men's soccer team at SUNY Purchase where he is studying political science. He is the first in his family to attend college. He joined the SBU Academy in 10th grade while attending Middle College High School in Queens

"I joined South Bronx United a couple of months after I moved to the Bronx from Queens. SBU has developed me into a better player, and a better person overall. Before joining SBU, I was not really aware of the importance of getting an education beyond high school. I have to thank South Bronx United for helping me through and developing me into a scholar-athlete. The program has helped me decide on the career I want to pursue. I want to be an immigration lawyer or a civil rights lawyer."

WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

Kafoumba Doumbia | SBU, Class of 2013 | SUNY Polytechnic Institute, Class of 2017

"I was born and raised in the Ivory Coast, or Cote D'Ivoire. Due to a civil war, I left Ivory Coast in 2010 to find refuge in the United States. It was August 16, 2010, a hot summer day that I landed in the United States to start my American journey. I came to this country with no knowledge of English and I had to start from scratch and adapt to this country. The one thing that made life easy for me and I will always be grateful for is South Bronx United. I found out about SBU through some of my high school friends. SBU was my refuge, my new family, my home and my comfort. I had the privilege of playing competitive soccer. I also received access to free English classes, after-school tutoring and many more academic and social advantages that come at a cost elsewhere. I took advantage of all the help I was provided. I worked hard to improve my English and catch up with my peers so that I could graduate high school on time.

After high school, I attended the University of Maine for one semester before transferring to SUNY Polytechnic Institute. I played a lot of soccer, competing on the school teams, but even more so I focused on school. I graduated in 2017 with a bachelor's degree in Electrical and Computer Engineering. I am now an Electrical Protection and Control Engineer at the New York Power Authority, a state-owned energy and power company, while pursuing an online master's degree in Electrical Engineering from the Worcester Polytechnic Institute."

Kafoumba spoke to SBU Academy high school seniors and other program alumni at the first annual SBU Alumni Career Networking Mixer. He gave advice on how to make the most of college and how to get connected to internships and careers.
